So what exactly is the importance of wedding hair & makeup trials?

Wedding trials allow you and the stylist to not only be formally acquainted but also allows you to evaluate their professionalism, gauge their work, and tests just how well you two vibe. Let's face it, no one wants an unprofessional artist who doesn't get along with you or your party and also does a shotty job on the glam.

CREATED WITH YOUR STYLE IN MIND!

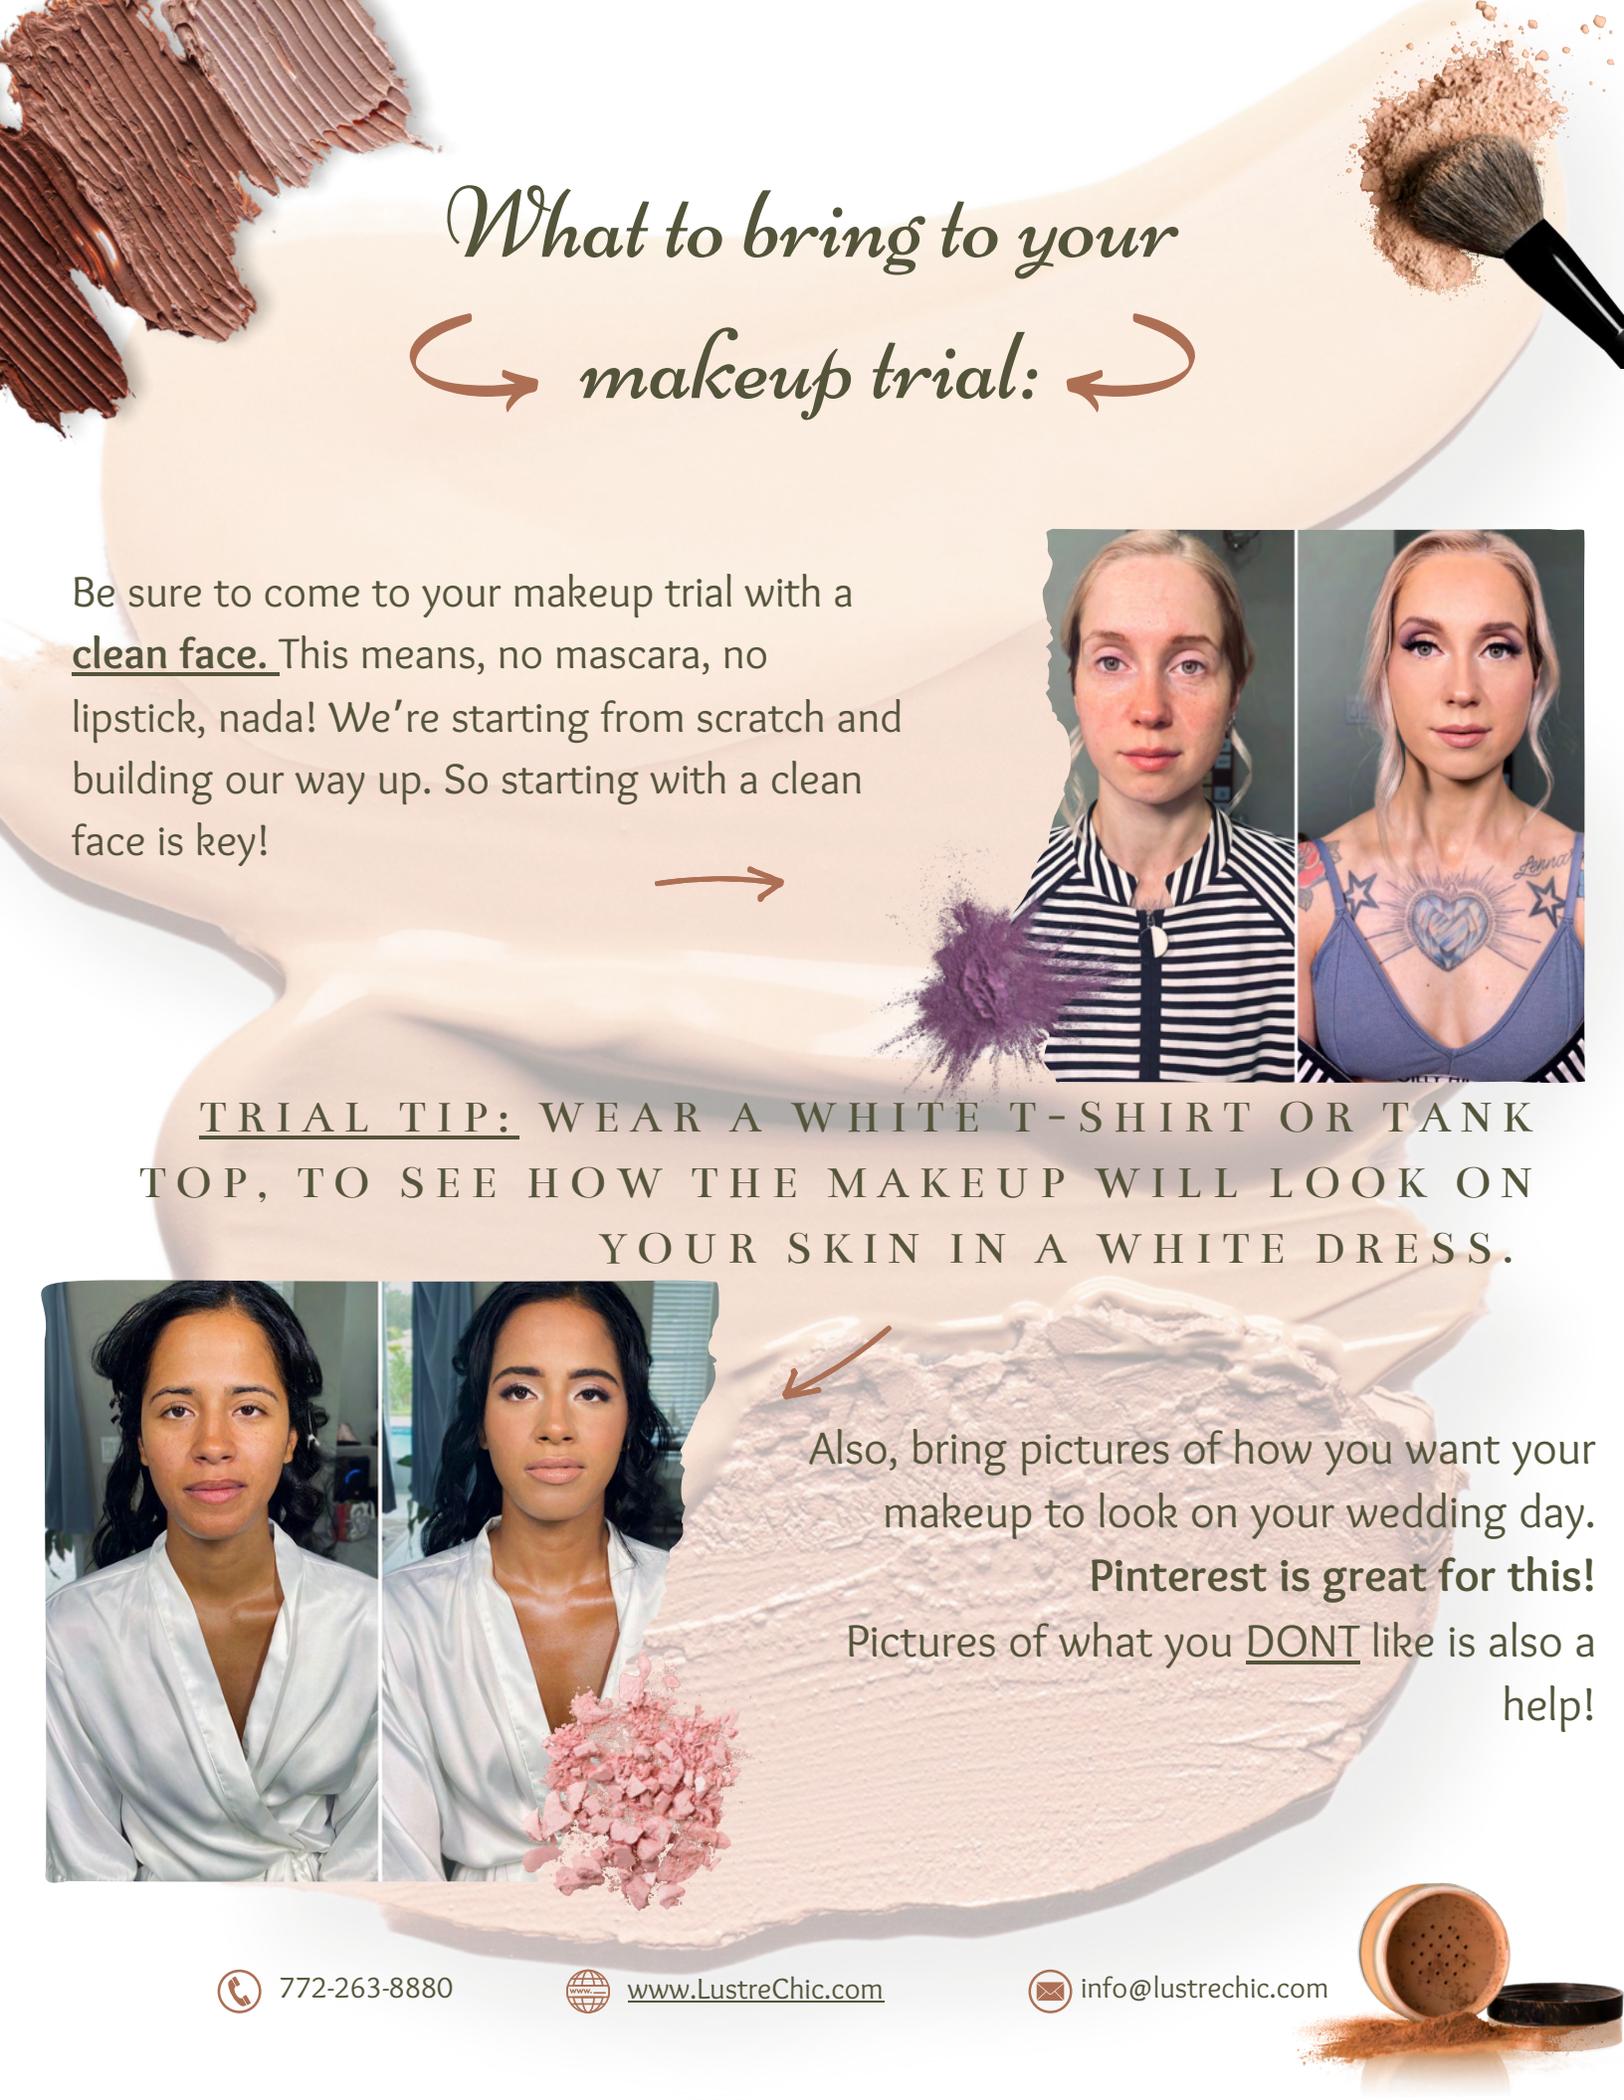

Instead of stressing about your exact look on your big day, booking a wedding trial gives you the freedom to tweak and perfect your final look BEFOREHAND. This means, finding the right eyeshadow colors and textures (MATTE OR SHINY), finding which false lashes (if any) work best for you, and how the makeup will last throughout the day (after the trial).

TIP: FOR YOUR WEDDING, YOU WANT TO STILL LOOK LIKE YOU.

Show your makeup artist a picture of yourself wearing makeup, or when you liked how you photographed and felt comfortable. Please note, Instagram can lead to false hopes! Most of the looks you see are highly filtered.

What to bring to your makeup trial:

Be sure to come to your makeup trial with a clean face. This means, no mascara, no lipstick, nada! We're starting from scratch and building our way up. So starting with a clean face is key!

TRIAL TIP: WEAR A WHITE T-SHIRT OR TANK TOP, TO SEE HOW THE MAKEUP WILL LOOK ON YOUR SKIN IN A WHITE DRESS.

Also, bring pictures of how you want your makeup to look on your wedding day.

Pinterest is great for this!

Pictures of what you DONT like is also a help!

What to bring to your hair

CLEAN/DRY HAIR

It's a common misconception that dirty hair hold hairstyles better. In fact, this is the opposite, especially if your hair tends to get oily when it is dirty. It's best if your hair is freshly washed and dried the morning of or the night prior. Your stylist can always make your hair "dirty" with hair products to create the texture needed. →

YOUR VEIL

It's important to bring your veil to your appointment so your hairstylist can work it into your style. Ask her to show you a couple of different placements. You may like it higher up on the crown of your head or lower down at the nape of your neck. Also, if you are planning on removing it at the reception, be sure to get her instructions on how to take it out without messing up your hair. To transport it to your venue, you can fold it over a hanger and cover it with a garment bag.

← Make sure you handle it carefully, and if it's cathedral length, be wary of people stepping on it! The last thing you need is a rip in your veil.

INSPIRATIONAL IMAGES

Your hairstylist will need to see your vision so come prepared to show her a Pinterest board on your phone or tear-outs from bridal magazines of inspirational images. When you are reviewing them with her, point out specifically what you like and don't like about each one so she gets an accurate understanding of your taste. Be sure to have an open mind! Your hair may not work best with certain styles and a different look may be more flattering for your face shape. Trust your hairstylist and stay open to her suggestions. She may even have ideas that you haven't considered before.

YOUR PHONE (FOR ON-THE-SPOT PICS)

Be sure to remember to take photos! It's a great way to see the back and sides of your hair once your hairstylist completes her work. Ask her to take a variety of shots from different angles and look them over while you're there—this way you can address anything that needs tweaking and you won't have to worry about coming back later. Also, it's smart to have them as a reference for the actual wedding day. And, before then, when you're back home, it's always good to have the images so you can look back on them and get excited about wearing the hairstyle again on your wedding day!

YOUR HAIRPIECE

Whether you are wearing a crown, some sparkly pins, or a hair comb, be sure to bring your hairpiece! Your hairstylist will need to have it so she can work it into the style in a way that fits the overall look. Ask her for her suggestions as to where it should go—she'll know how to make it flow with your locks. It's best not to have any surprises so if you're wearing a perishable headpiece, like a fresh flower or a flower crown, ask your florist about getting a mock one made. This way, you can make sure you love the way it goes with your hair and that everything is balanced and pretty!

YOUR OTHER ACCESSORIES

Aside from your veil and headpiece, take your wedding day earrings and necklace so you can try them on once your hair is finished. Both contribute to the overall look and you'll want to make sure they are the right length and size given the volume of your hair. It's also a good idea to wear a simple white tank top or even a strapless white top—it can be distracting to see your hairstyle if you have a graphic t-shirt on.
